The bulletin staff apologizes to Mike Passell for an error in yesterday's hard copy bulletin. In the 6H hand on the bottom of page 5, Mike was listed as declarer. In point of fact, Mike and his partner, Mark Jacobus, had a strong club auction where Mike opened 1C and Mark responded 1H. The result was Mark declaring $6 H$ from the short trump holding.

Humor from Eddie Kantar

Four guys are playing bridge at the golf club and there is one kibitzer. Phone rings and one of the fellows has to leave. They beg the kibitzer to play a few hands even though he doesn't play and only knows from what he has seen these last few hours. They say it's o.k. The kibitzer sits in and deals. They all look at him. He bids 4C! Very strange opening bid even for a beginner. Second hand doubles and it comes back to the kibitzer who bids 4D! They are beginning to have second thoughts about this guy. Second hand doubles again and when the bidding comes back to the kibitzer he bids 4H. This is just too much. This will surely be the last hand, but second hand doubles again. When it comes back to the kibitzer, this time he says: "And the jack of spades."

Alvin Roth a very ethical player is defending 7NT, vulnerable, in a money rubber bridge game where the declarer reduces to a three card ending. Dummy has the Axx of spades and declarer the KJ10. The lead is in declarer's hand and he leads the SJ. Second hand has xxx and Roth Qxx. Second hand goes into an act trying to make declarer think he has the queen and finally plays low. Declarer, taken in by the hesitation, also plays low. Roth, holding the queen, also plays low allowing the jack to take the trick and the declarer to make 7NT. When Roth's partner asks him why he didn't take the SQ, Roth says: "Because I thought you had it!"

Helen Sobel when asked how it feels to be playing with an expert (She always played with Charles Goren) said: "Ask Charlie".

Two wives were discussing whose husband plays worse. Wife #1 says it isn't even close, hers does. Wife #2 doesn't agree and says "listen to what my husband did last night playing 7NT."
"He had 11 tricks outside of spades and the dummy had the $A Q$ of spades and the spade finesse was onside and he had plenty of entries to his hand to take the finesse, but instead of taking the spade finesse he went to dummy and led the SQ from the dummy!" "What's so bad about that"? wife #1 says. "Against my husband that play works."

Hospitality Suite Information

The hospitality suite for the 2014 USBC will be the Kayenta Suite (room 2052). Our wonderful hostesses, Lisa Berkowitz and Molly O'Neill will make the "trek" to Phoenix to welcome you to tihe Hospitality Suite during the tournament. Because the hotel serves breakfast every morning, we will not be serving breakfast in the hospitality suite. Please join us for:

Lunch daily from 2:30-4:00.
Vugraph, casual chit chat, drinks $&$ snacks during the rest of the playing hours and for a short time after the end of the day.

As we have the last two years, we will also have a "Players' Break Room" (aka Jan's office) near the playing rooms from Tuesday on. We will have coffee, soft drinks and some snacks available in that room while you wait for your slow teammates to finish playing.

Molly and Lisa invite you to room 2050 during the play for snacks and sodas. Your team captains have the key... and they add that your cooperation in tossing your trash is much appreciated.

Everyone played in the same strain. Two at the four level. One at the five level. One at the six level. Everyone collected 11 tricks.

Before the hand commenced, Nickell made the comment that he had as many double cards as passes. It looks like he needed them. Before making the opening lead, Katz tanked for more than his usual amount of time trying to assure he would make the right lead. Little did he know there was no wrong lead.

No swing in the Fleisher/Diamond match. 11 IMPs to Nickell in the Nickell/Bramley set.

Howie Weinstein did well to bid five hearts over Katz's 4NT, so long as he or Grabel were willing to take the sacrifice in six if the opponents bid the cold diamond slam.

Indeed, Nickell bid the slam, and Grabel dutifully saved.
3 IMPs to Bramley

Great Defense: Bramley and Stansby!!

All four rooms played in 3NT on Board 36. Looking at all of the hands, you can see that 3NT can always be made. Indeed the contract succeeded in three of the four rooms.

In the Fleisher/Diamond match, Greco opened an off-shape 1NT (14-16) with the North hand. It is unclear why Greco chose this bid since Hampson/Greco play an opening 2D to be 11-15 with short diamonds. Hampson bid 3C (puppet Stayman) and settled in 3NT when Greco denied a five card major. Rosenberg led the queen of spades and declarer was able to take two spades (by finessing for the nine of spades), four hearts, two diamonds and one club to make 3NT.

At the other table, Fleisher opened 1C on the North hand and Martel responded 1S, transferring to 1NT. Martel raised to 3NT and Moss led a heart. Fleisher won in dummy and played a spade to the eight, losing to Moss's jack. Another heart was returned. Fleisher won in his hand and played a spade to the king, losing to Bathurst's ace. Not having the benefit of seeing declarer's hand, Bathurst returned the jack of clubs to declarer's king and Moss's ace. Fleisher won the heart return in dummy and played a club to his nine. Now he cashed the king of clubs, ace of diamonds and ace of hearts. He exited with a spade to East's queen and Moss, with only diamonds remaining was forced to give declarer the diamond finesse for his ninth trick.

In the Nickell/Bramley match, Hamman/Lee bid naturally to 3NT from the South hand. Meckstroth led a club to dummy's king and Rodwell's ace. The seven of clubs was returned and won in dummy with the queen. Now Hamman led a spade to the king. Meckstroth could win this trick and defeat the contract by cashing a club and two more spades. Not knowing how weak declarer's spade holding was, Meckstroth ducked! Now declarer led a diamond to the ace and conceded a club, taking nine tricks (one spade, four hearts, two diamonds and two clubs). Taking a superficial view, the duck of the spade ace was an error, but think again! Look what happened at the other table in this match.

Bramley/Stansby were the only pair to defeat 3NT. Levin/Weinstein bid to 3NT on the auction shown above. Stansby led the ten of diamonds. Weinstein won in dummy and played a spade to the king. Stansby ducked his ace! Now Weinstein played a club to dummy's king and Bramley ducked his ace! Weinstein led a heart to his hand and played a club to the queen. Now Bramley won his ace, and played the queen and jack of spades. Stansby won the ace of spades and cashed three club tricks, defeating 3NT two tricks for a gain of 13 IMPs. (Not to nitpick great defense, but Stansby should probably overtake the queen of spades, just in case Stevie the Poker Player lied a little when he denied a four card major.) Of course this defense is really just "child's play": DUCK-DUCK-GOOSE.

In the Nickell/Bramley match, Meckwell played in six diamonds. With no information from the opponents, Rodwell played for the 2-2 in trumps, and went down when the trump queen didn't drop and the heart finesse lost.

Weinstein and Grabel disdained the slam and played 3NT. Weinstein collected eleven tricks and made five for a gain of 11 IMPs to Bramley.

In the Fleisher/Diamond match, Willenken/Rosenberg bid to six diamonds, their opponents passing throughout. Like Rodwell, Willenken played for the drop of the trump queen and went light one trick.

At the other table, Diamond/Platnick bid to six diamonds. Cohler, sitting South, doubled puppet stayman.
This double was a tell.
Fleisher led the jack of clubs. Diamond realized that Cohler's double had to be based on extreme length since he was missing three of the top four honors. Diamond went with the odds by cashing the king of diamonds and finessing North for the queen.

He was rewarded with 14 IMPs for the Diamond squad.

More Kantar Humor:

Peter Leventritt, a famous bridge player, is teaching a beginning class at the Card School in New York. It is now the fifth lesson and one of the regulars is sick. Peter is forced to ask this fellow in the class who has not said one word since day one and is only there because his girlfriend bugged him to try to learn the game to fill in. Actually, he is a poker player. Reluctantly the fellow sits down and is given a set hand that Peter uses to teach beginners. The fellow has 14 HCP and a nice five card heart suit, and everyone is waiting for him to bid something. Silence. Peter asks him how many points he has? Silence. Well, Peter teaches him how to count points and says you have to open something. Silence. Peters says, "it's o.k open anything you want." The guys says" O.K, I'll open for a dollar."

Puzzle Page ...

At lunchtime today, five employees from the Gadget Factory went out to do their banking. Though Millersville itself wasn't a large town, there were many options available in the surrounding area so it wasn't unusual that all five employees used different banks or credit unions. While all made deposits (and it wasn't even payday!), the odd part was that each made a deposit to a different type of account. Determine the full name of each employee, the name of the bank each went to (one was City Trust), the street each bank was on, and the type of account where each made their deposit (one was a CD).

1. The employee whose last name was Lewis didn't have a savings account nor did she go to the Citizen Credit Union. 2. Peter Bradley didn't go to a credit union. Harriet, whose last name wasn't Lawson, went to the bank on West Street but she didn't have a checking account.
2. Elliot, whose last name wasn't Ranger, went to South Street to do his deposit but not at the Workforce Credit Union. The employee who went to the First National bank had a savings account.
3. Fleet Bank was on Third Street but it wasn't Glenn's bank. Cindy, whose last name wasn't Sweet, had an IRA but it wasn't in the bank on Main Street.
4. The two credit unions were the one on Rockland Street and the one that held an employee's money market account. 6. The employee whose last name was Ranger didn't use a credit union to deposit money to his checking account.

Harriet didn't have a money market account.
